

Accommodation:

There seems to be no accommodation readily available close to the Yokohama campus of Toyo Eiwa University, which is quite some distance from downtown Yokohama. So the best option seems to be to stay in the downtown area and commute to the campus each day.

I have looked at hotel rooms near Kannai train station from 4 nights (Wednesday, 3 September to Sunday, 7 September) on www.booking.com and found the following, which I list in ascending order according to cheapest room price for hotel (there may be other more expensive rooms available in hotel). Availability is limited at those low prices, so I recommend booking early. My suggestion is for option 1. The price is for an entire 4-night stay:

1. Hotel JAL City Kannai ($289)
2. Daiwa Roynet Hotel Yokohama-Kannai ($321)
3. Richmond Hotel Yokohama-Bashamichi ($333)
4. APA Hotel Yokohama Kannai ($372)
5. Daiwa Roynet Hotel Yokohama-Koen ($405)
6. Comfort Hotel Yokohama Kannai ($433)
7. Hotel Yokohama Garden ($494)

Given that we shall need to transport ourselves to the campus each day, it may be best to try and stay together in the one hotel as much as possible and to meet each morning at Hotel JAL City Kannai and commute together.
