

WRPRS 2007

Like the North American Patristics Society, we have decided that in years when the International Patristics Conference is held in Oxford, the Western Pacific Rim Patristics Society would not hold a conference but instead, as we did to launch the society, would have a social gathering at Oxford during that conference for those who are there. So members of the society who were in Oxford and a few friends gathered on the Tuesday evening, 7 August, in the King's Arms for a convivial evening. In the midst of the hectic schedule of the International Patristics Conference this was a rare moment to have an opportunity to relax and speak at leisure.
